Transfer of Personal Data to a Third Party

StarCompliance does not sell, lease, rent or give away Personal Data. Personal Data is handled in line with StarCompliance's Policies. Personal Data processed by StarCompliance is subject to the:

EU and UK General Data Protection Regulation

TRANSFER OF PERSONAL DATA TO THIRD COUNTRIES OR INTERNATIONAL ORGANISATIONS.

a) Intra-Group

StarCompliance, Inc. may transfer Personal Data outside of the UK/ EEA to other group entities, including the United States of America. In order to protect the security of Personal Data during such transfer, StarCompliance relies on Intragroup International Data Transfer Agreements that incorporate the safeguards set out in the Standard Contractual Clauses.

b) Third Party

StarCompliance, Inc. may also transfer Personal Data to other third-party service providers outside of the UK or EEA. If and when transferring Personal Data outside the UK/ EEA, StarCompliance will do so using one of the following safeguards:

i. the transfer is to a non-UK / non-EEA country that has been the subject of an adequacy decision by the EU Commission or the UK Information Commissioner/ Secretary of State;
ii. the transfer is covered by a contractual agreement compliant with the rules within Data Protection Laws relating to transfers to countries outside the UK and the EEA; or
iii. the transfer is to an organisation which has binding corporate rules approved by an EU or UK data protection authority.
How we maintain confidentiality, integrity and availability of your Personal Data

In its roles as Data Controller/Business and Data Processor/Service Provider, StarCompliance seeks to adhere to the following security principles:

- Confidentiality
- Integrity
- Availability

This is achieved through the application of Security Controls: Administration, Technical and Physical. When combined these provide a number of security layers, designed to safeguard against any potential threats. These controls are subject to independent audits, security testing and external assessments by clients, and independent organizations against the latest industry standards.

These security controls require constant and consistent audits, reviews, monitoring and communication. This is provided by Senior Management and the Board through the practices of Governance, Risk and Compliance.

How we retain and destroy your Personal Data

StarCompliance is bound by legal, regulatory, and business obligations in relation to the retention of Personal Data, with the purposes of:

- Maintaining business relationships;
- The provision of products, services or information based upon entitlement or reasonable expectations;
- Legal, regulatory, and contractual compliance;

Please be aware that elements of legal and regulatory compliance may overrule the fundamental rights associated with your data protection rights.

Destruction of Personal Data is subject to industry best practice.

Your individual rights in respect to your Personal Data – General Data Protection Regulation

As a Data Controller, StarCompliance observes and upholds your rights in respect to the General Data Protection Regulation. These rights are based upon:

- the right to request information regarding the Personal Data we process concerning you (Subject Access Request);
- the right to rectify, update or complement inaccurate or incomplete Personal Data concerning you;
- the right to delete or request the erasure of Personal Data concerning you, exceptions apply; for example, criminal records or due to legal and regulatory requirements;
- the right to withdraw any consent you may have given for us to process Personal Data concerning you;
- the right to object to our processing of Personal Data concerning you on the basis of our, or of third-parties’ legitimate interests;
- the right to obtain from us the portability of Personal Data concerning you which we process using automated means on the basis of your consent or of a contract you have entered into with us, and;
• the right to, in the European Economic Area/United Kingdom, lodge a privacy complaint with a supervisory authority if you are unhappy with the way we have handled your Personal Data or any privacy query or request that you have raised with us.

Subject Access Request

A Subject Access Request is a request from an individual to see copies of information held by an organization about them, as such:

• StarCompliance, Inc., in its capacity as a Data Controller, is obliged to take reasonable measures to confirm your identity and the grounds of those making the request;
• StarCompliance will notify client-based requests (Subject Access Requests) to the appropriate Data Controller within agreed timescales;
• StarCompliance will process other Subject Access Requests within one calendar month. This period is extendable under certain criteria.

Your individual rights in respect to your Personal Data – California Residents Under the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”)

StarCompliance is obliged to provide California residents with the following information about their rights, as per the CCPA, in particular, Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.135(a)(2).

Please note that StarCompliance does not, and will not sell personal information regarding consumers or data subjects, including Californian residents.

Where StarCompliance processes personal information as a Business (rather than as a Service Provider to a Business), as those terms are defined by the CCPA, California residents have the following rights to the extent applicable under the CCPA:

• The right to request StarCompliance disclose to a consumer the categories and specific pieces of personal information the Business has collected;
• The right to request that StarCompliance delete any personal information about the consumer which the Business has collected from the consumer;
• The right to request that a Business that collects personal information about the consumer disclose to the consumer the following:
  o The categories of personal information it has collected about that consumer.
  o The categories of sources from which the personal information is collected.
  o The business or commercial purpose for collecting or selling personal information.
  o The categories of third parties with whom the Business shares personal information.
  o The specific pieces of personal information it has collected about that consumer.
• The right to request that a business that sells the consumer’s personal information, or that discloses it for a business purpose, disclose to that consumer:
  o The categories of personal information that the Business collected about the consumer.
  o The categories of personal information that the Business sold about the consumer and the categories of third parties to whom the personal information was sold, by category or categories of personal information for each third party to whom the personal information was sold.
The categories of personal information that the Business disclosed about the consumer for a business purpose.

- The right to, at any time, direct a Business that sells personal information about the consumer to third parties not to sell the consumer's personal information. This right may be referred to as the right to opt-out;
- Star Compliance is prohibited from discriminating against a consumer in the event that a consumer exercises any of their rights.

These rights are often subject to the receipt of a verifiable consumer request and may be subject to certain other conditions. For the full details of these rights and any exceptions to them, please refer to the CCPA.

Star Compliance accepts requests to exercise rights via email, telephone or post. For full current contact details, please refer to the Star Compliance website.

Personal Data of children under 13 years of age

Star Compliance does not actively, or knowingly collect, process or store information from children under the age of 13.

Exception: employee dependencies based upon legal regulatory or contractual obligations, and or in relation to products, services or benefits.

Monitoring of Internal Activities

Star Compliance does not engage in blanket monitoring of internal communications but does reserve the right to monitor access, retrieve, read, or disclose internal communications when:

- a legitimate business need exists that cannot be satisfied by other means;
- the involved individual is unavailable, and timing is critical to a business activity;
- there is reasonable cause to suspect criminal activity or policy violation;
- monitoring is required by law, regulation, or third party agreement.

At any time and without prior notice, Star Compliance management reserves the right to examine archived electronic mail, personal computer file directories, hard disk drive files, and other information stored on Star Compliance information processing systems. This information may include Personal Information. Such examinations are typically performed to assure compliance with internal policies, support the performance of internal investigations, and assist with the management of Star Compliance information processing systems.

Changes to this Policy

If Star Compliance seeks to make a material change to Star Compliance policy to allow use of Personal Information for a new, legitimate business purpose, Star Compliance will document the change to this policy, note the date of the last update at the start of the policy, and publish the policy. You are encouraged to check this policy occasionally to stay informed of any changes in our policies and procedures regarding Personal Information. For substantial and material changes to this policy, Star Compliance will use reasonable efforts to provide notification to all affected users and suggest that such users review the updated policy.
